

Ph.D. ENGLISH STUDIES: ANGLO-AMERICAN LITERATURE

I. ADMISSION

M.A. Degree or equivalent; superior scholastic standing

II. COURSE WORK

36 units beyond the M.A.

The student's program of study which he prepares with the help of his program committee, follows either of two plans, depending on his dissertation problem.

Dissertation: The Literature of England and America

A. Core Courses	9 units
1. A graduate research and bibliography course
2. History of the English Language
3. Readings in Middle English or equivalent
B. Areas (4) to be covered in the comprehensive examination	21
1. Dissertation area
2. Renaissance literature
3-4 Any two of the following:
a. English Language
b. Medieval Literature
c. 17 th Century Literature
d. 18 th Century Literature
e. 19 th Century Literature
f. 20 th Century Literature
g. American Literature
C. Electives	6
To be chosen from Comparative Literature (including Third World Literature); Philosophy, Linguistics, and Other related fields.
Total	36 units
D. Language Requirements: The student must pass a reading Examination in two foreign languages – French, German and/or other language/s approved by his dissertation committee

NOTE:

1. At least five courses must be on the 300-level.
2. Except for the core courses, the student is relatively free to distribute the other 27 units as he wishes.

Ph.D. ENGLISH STUDIES: ANGLO-AMERICAN LITERATURE
Area of Specialization B

Dissertation: The literature of England, America or nay other country coming under Anglo-American influence (provided that literature is in English) as seen in the total framework of the culture which produced it.

A.	CORE COURSES	9 units
	1. English 299 Bibliography and Methods of Research
	2. CL 309 Seminar in Literary Theory and Criticism
	3. Anthropology 270 Seminar in Anthropological Linguistics
B.	Areas to be covered in the Comprehensive Examination
	1. Dissertation Area	12
	This examination will be given in two parts. The student will be examined in (a) the literature of his area and (b) the historical (including social and political) and philosophical (including religious) contexts of this literature.
	2. English literature	3
	3. Choice of 2 from the following:	6
	American literature
	Asian literature
	Philippine literature
	Third World literature
C.	Electives	6
	To be chosen from Philosophy, Sociology, and other related social sciences
	Total number of units (course work)	36 units
D.	Language Requirements: The student must pass a reading examination in two foreign language – French, German and/or any other language/s approved by his dissertation committee

*Approved January 1989